

Flowers and gifts delivery management

My Web application will help company to flowers and gifts delivery management.

Customer

Customer can enter to the site. He can browse the offer of the flowers and gifts, then they can order for example flower, fill the form. He can register.

Registered Customer

If customer have an account and he ordering using his account, they can check his orders.

Admin

The application have administrator, who can manager accounts for example can change password for user.

Employee

Employee of the company can have their own account. They can use normal Customer use cases. In addition they can add new for example flower to offer. They can delete somethink from offer. Employee can browse actual orders, prepare it and then change status to send.